P. G. Marsteller, v. m.

TO THE PUBLIC.

THE subscriber, after a lapse of time necessarily consumed in the preparation of his house, respectfully announces to the citizens of Alexandria, as well as the community at large, that he has taken for a term of years that noted and eligible establishment known by the name of the CITY HOTEL, and once occupied by Mr. Gadsby, whose distinguished abilities as a Publican gave it an eclat which the subscriber hopes to preserve by his unremitted exertions in affording to all those who may confer on him the favor of their patronage, genteel and comfortable accommodations. The subscriber deems it unnecessary to indicate the multiplicity of conveniences attached to the City Hotel, and will only submit a description to that portion of travellers who have so generally attested its numerous advantages.

NOTICE.

LAST NIGHT between the hours of seven and eight o'clock, was stolen from the house formerly occupied by Mr Lawes, now occupied by Miss Hellen Gullatt, two Bedquilts, one of which being remarkable had a large sized leaf with a dark ground diamond, being also of furniture calico, and quilted by the leaf, also by the diamond—the other being a diamond and star, with a large star in the center, quilted chiefly in shells—also a basket and linen sheet. Whoever will apprehend the thief, and deliver the things to this office, or to Miss Hellen Gullatt, shall be generously rewarded. Should they be offered for sale, it is requested they may be stopped and information given as above mentioned.

A NEW NOVEL.

Just Published, and for Sale by
COTTOM & STEWART,
Price 1 Dollar,

GLENCARN;

OR

THE DISAPPOINTMENTS OF YOUTH,

A NOVEL.

BY GEORGE WATTERSTON, Esq.
OF WASHINGTON CITY,
Author of the Lawyer and Child of Feeling.

The celebrity of this author's "LAWYER," and "CHILD OF FEELING," induced the publishers to engage in this work, and without detracting from the merits of the former, feel themselves justified in stating that his GLENCARN is superior to either. It is submitted without further recommendation, with a wish, that the American reviewers may give further encouragement to this young gentleman's endeavors to entertain, instruct and moralize his fellow citizens, in a way seemingly well calculated to attract their attention.

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 22.

From the Connecticut Mirror.

The state of the Country.—In enquiring after the benefit which the country has experienced, by changing the administration of the government, from Federal politics to Democratic, in our last paper, we particularly noticed the subject of the revenue—We now ask, whether the nation is more UNITED, than it was before the change?—It is true, Mr. Jefferson's popularity increased for several years. His hypocritical cunning aided by collateral circumstances, produced the effect for which it was intended—it deluded the people much longer than could have been expected. Had he been contented with a reign of only four years, the evils of his administration would not without extreme difficulty, have been eradicated from the country. But, fortunately, he was ambitious of holding his place as long as gen. Washington did, and therefore could not bring his mind to give up the reins of government short of eight years.—No hypocrite, in such an elevated and conspicuous situation, ever stood his ground for so long a period as that. At the second election, he had all the votes of the electors except fourteen. This was low water with Federalism; and it was that dangerous flood tide with democracy, which ninety-nine times in a hundred, hurries demagogues to their ruin. Before the late election of president came round, the party began to shew symptoms of splitting; and when the votes were given in, it appeared that federalism was gaining pretty fast.—Instead of 14, the federal candidates had 48. Not only had the federalists gained strength, but the old democratic party was very much divided. And so fearful were the Jeffersonians, that if left to themselves, the people would not elect Mr. Madison, that they met in a caucus the winter preceding, and nominated him as the next heir to the crown. The friends of governor Clinton were in a great passion on this subject, and the adherents of Mr. Monroe were but little better. Nearly twenty members of congress, signed and published, a formal protest against the presidential caucus. Mr. Madison was, however, elected; and what is the state of the party now? In Virginia and some other of the southern states, there is a Monroe party, which appears to show symptoms of vigorous opposition to the Jeffersonians. In New York, there is a Clinton party, and a Madison, or a Jefferson party. That state, and Pennsylvania are in a general uproar of party confusion; not from federalism and democracy, but from democracy divided against itself. In New York, Cheetham is the advocate of Gov. Clinton, and the foe of De Witt Clinton and Ambrose Spencer. "The Public Advertiser," is the foe of Cheetham and Holt; and Holt is the bitter adversary of Cheetham, and the Public Advertiser. In Pennsylvania, it is but little more than a year, since Duane and Leib, joined with Binns, &c. in extolling Simon Snyder to the skies, and in making him the governor of that state. And they did make him governor, with the greatest number of votes, that any man ever obtained for an office in the United States. But, examine the state of things which exists there at the present time, and see how they are now situated. Duane and Leib vent billingsgate at Snyder, and Binns vents billingsgate at Duane and Leib. Duane calls Snyder a knave and a fool; and Binns insists upon it, that so far as Duane and Leib fall short of Snyder in ... vergo him in villainy. And ... markable, it, that there never ... when the most malignant of ... ever uttered such vile things ... as these different sections now say of each other.

The spirit of division, and calumny, of reproach and billingsgates, owes its birth, in a prime degree, to Mr. Jefferson. And his former friends and supporters, now reap the benefit of it. But is the country better off now in point of union, than before the change? If so, let the particulars be named.

Again—Have the affairs of the nation, been in abler hands since the Jeffersonian era, than they were before? Skill and prudence, are necessary to manage the affairs of a country well. There is much wisdom, and experience requisite, to conduct the business of a nation. Did the U. States gain much, by bartering Wolcott, M'Henry, Stoddart, &c. for Gallatin, Robert Smith, Dearborn, &c.? Are Eppes, and Newton, and Varnum, and Johnson, and Clopton, and Dawson, a match for Ellsworth, and Strong, and Ames, and Griswold, and Harper, &c.? Are Armstrong, and Short, and John Quincy Adams, abler negociators than King, and C. C. Pinkney? In short, look round, and make the comparison, and the result will assuredly be—that the legislative, executive, and the diplomatic character of the nation, has been constantly on the down-hill course; until, by an uninterupted descent, we have, to human appearances, reached the bottom, and a change, whenever it takes place, must be for the better. In the mean time, the people are disgraced, their national character is sunk, their dignity destroyed, and we are contemned, and ridiculed among the other nations of the world, instead of being what we might have been—courted and respected.

If this disgraceful picture is not a likeness, let it be corrected by the limners of the party. Let them come out, and vindicate their measures, and their men. This is what we wish for, most devoutly. We wish to see them, and their proofs. But assertion merely will not be taken.

FOREIGN.

LONDON, December 7.

We mentioned yesterday a report of a commotion at Seville, in which several of the Junta had been seized by the populace on the suspicion of being traitors to their country—A letter from Cadiz, which we have inserted in the preceding page mentions the arrest of the brother of Palafox, of the marquis de Montejo, and several officers of the guards. Another letter from Seville of the 18th contains the following important P. S.

"The greatest confusion prevails in this city. Palafox, the brother of the heroic defender of Saragossa, has been put under arrest. A French officer of distinction has been detected here in disguise. A summary vengeance was inflicted upon him by the people, who strangled him in their rage."

No further particulars have arrived: but we suspect that when they do, it will be found that the Junta have been forced to abandon the reins of government, and that several of the members have fallen victims to the popular indignation, or been arrested. The design of removing them has for some time been in agitation. When the marquis Wellesley was at Seville, information, we understand, was communicated to him, that a plot had been formed to seize the whole of the Junta, in the middle of the night while they were engaged in council—to put to death some, and to send off others to S. America—to declare a regency, and to place at its head the old cardinal Bourbon, the Duke de L'Infantado, the marquis de Romana, and two others—that the Duke's regiment of guards, then at Seville, were to be the principal actors in the plot. The marquis could not of course suffer such a design to be carried into execution without informing the Junta, which he did immediately. The Junta were in a dreadful state of alarm, and threw themselves upon his lordship, who promised to go instantly to the duke de L'Infantado, but urged the ... necessity of their attending to ... popular wishes, convoking the Cortes, ... several reforms in the administration of affairs. This was promised, ... the marquis had a conference with the duke de L'Infantado, who exerted his influence so effectually with his regiment of guards, that the design was not carried into execution. The Junta, relieved from the danger that had alarmed them, contrived to remove the duke's regiment, and to introduce others upon whom they could depend—They then shewed a reluctance to fulfil the promises they had made—The greatest indignation was again excited against them, and the marquis de Romana is understood to have made a long speech in which he upbraided them in the most cutting terms—Fearful of the popular vengeance, the Cortes were at length agreed to be convoked.

The marquis Wellesley was so popular during his stay in Spain, that his departure was considered a public calamity; and it was feared that the populace, construing it into a proof of his being disgusted with the conduct of the Junta, would conspire against them. These fears his lordship did every thing in his power to remove. He asserted that the attachment of the English government and people to the Spanish cause was unabated—that no efforts of theirs should be wanting to assist it; and that his departure from Spain was occasioned by a cause, which, so far from impairing, would tend to encrease his power to be of service to the Spanish nation. These representations calmed the popular mind both at Seville and at Cadiz, where, we hear, it was first intended by the populace to prevent his embarking for England, so anxious were they to keep him in Spain.

PARIS, November 10.

The Duke of Ilchingen (Ney) will set off this day or to-morrow, for the army in Spain.

November 15.

The king of Saxony arrived here yesterday at five o'clock in the evening.

The emperor arrived late in the evening of the 14th at Paris. His majesty rode on horseback the greater part of the way from Fontainbleau to Paris. On his arrival he visited, accompanied by the king of Westphalia, the king of Saxony; and after a short conversation with that prince, his majesty repaired to the Thuilleries.

To-morrow his majesty will give audience to his minister, and on the following day he will admit to his presence the different constituted authorities.

The prince of Schwarzenberg appointed ambassador from Austria to the court of Paris, set out for his destination on the 24th inst.

November 21.

The king of Naples is to quit that city on the 9th for Paris.

The news of the bombardment of Cuxhaven, by the English, on the 6th, is confirmed, but the damage done is not great; only seven houses have suffered.

November 22.

We hear from Turin, that on the 12th and 15th a great number of cardinals passed through that city on their way to Paris.

BAYONNE, November 16.

Every disposition has been made to receive our august emperor. The guard of honor is already assembled. English and Spanish prisoners pass through here daily. Marshal Ney is expected here every moment. Our mayor has published a proclamation, announcing that a great number of troops will pass through this town for Spain; from 20 to 25,000 by the 2d December.

The American President has refused to receive the Spanish Ambassador.

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 22.

Mr. Macon's Bill.

This bill, which has caused so much agitation, not only in Congress, but thro'out the nation, was yesterday taken up in the Senate, and on motion of Gen. Smith, all the commercial restrictive part of it was struck out, leaving only the sections which prohibit public armed vessels from entering our waters, and the section repealing the old non-intercourse. The bill in that state was ordered to a third reading, and will undoubtedly pass. We congratulate our mercantile and sea-faring brethren on this dawning day of commerce, after the long, gloomy and distressing night which it has passed through.

At an election for President and Directors of the ALEXANDRIA LIBRARY COMPANY, on Monday last, the following gentlemen were found duly elected.

Rev. Dr. Muir, President.

The democrats of Massachusetts have laid aside their former candidates for governor and lieut. governor, Messrs. Lincoln and Varnum—the first on account of weak sight; but no reason is given for the abandonment of gen. Varnum. The candidates announced for those offices at the April election, are Ellbridge Gerry and William Gray.

NEW-YORK, February 16.

It will be seen, that the brig Ann, 44 days from Tonningen, was spoken on the coast on the 12th of this month; the captain of which gives news of the sequestration of all American property at that place. The Ann must have sailed from Tonningen about the last of December, which is nearly six weeks later than our former advices from that quarter.

We feel it.—Cotton is worth only fourteen cents a pound. What is the cause of this low price? Why, forsooth! the famous non-intercourse law. A merchant cannot give the planter the same price for his cotton, in present circumstance, as he could if the shipment of it could be made direct from this port. He has to pay a freight and insurance to Amelia Island, and then to give British and Spanish ships a monstrous freight to carry it to those ports from which we have excluded ourselves. The merchant makes the planter allow the expence; and thus the country is drained of its resources. Foreign goods, in the mean time, are heavily advancing upon us.

(Charleston Courier.)

We feel it every how.—Our own ships are either rotting at the wharves or running wild-goose chases after permitted ports, while British and Spanish ships are making fortunes for their owners by carrying our cotton to Liverpool. One of the common sized ships make a freight of 6 or 8000 dollars for a two months voyage, while our manacled citizens are employed in the welcome labor of examining their wharfage bills; ship-wright's bills, and all the other port-charge bills. And what makes this difference? Why, the bungling interference of men ignorant of commerce and all its details; who have been crying down foreign trade for years, and crying up agriculture and manufactures and laboring for the freedom of the seas by abandoning them altogether.

(Ibid.)

FRENCH IN LOUISIANA.

The Courier de la Louisiane contains the speech of his excellency Governor Claiborne to the legislature of Orleans, from which the following is extracted:

"You are apprised, gentlemen, that a considerable number of the former inhabitants of St. Domingo, being driven from that island by a horrible revolution, were permitted by the Spanish authorities to settle and improve the forests of Cuba. It has been represented that those people were beginning to enjoy that plenty & contentment which honest industry seldom fails acquiring, when in consequence of another revolution, the Spanish government deemed it expedient to order them to depart, and to seek an asylum for themselves and families elsewhere than in the dominions of Spain or of her allies. Many of these unhappy exiles have sought a refuge within the limits of the United States, where no tyranny either civil or religious exist;—where the unfortunate find friends, and the laws guarantee felicity. It remains to be seen how far such, as may wish a permanent residence, shall prove worthy members of our society;—But motives of gratitude (the strongest incentive to virtuous minds) must create an attachment for a country, that has so generally received them, and will also I trust, secure their fidelity to a government, under whose auspices they now enjoy in common with our own citizens, peace and safety. A return of the number and of the several descriptions of persons, including whites, people of color and slaves, arriving at the port of New-Orleans in the course of last year from the island of Cuba, shall be laid before you, accompanied with further and more particular information upon this subject."

Massachusetts Senate.——The following is an extract from the answer of the Massachusetts Senate to the governor's speech:

"The people of this commonwealth, believing it to be the indispensable duty of the states to contribute to the exigencies of the union, have been accustomed to consider it as a reciprocal duty of the general government, to provide for the common defence, and knowing that the U. States contain the most ample military and naval resources—and considering the imminent dangers which threaten, we cannot but express the deepest concern, that our extensive frontiers are so defenceless—and that our naval force is so utterly incompetent to the purposes of national security—and unbecoming the just claims and the dignity of our country. In this alarming situation of our public affairs, our immediate reliance must be on the militia of the state, and we assure your excellency, that "to render this, to say the least, our first resource for defence, as efficient as possible," we consider to be, "not merely the dictate of prudence, but the imperious call of a necessity, imposed by circumstances, over which, we may have no controul."

The policy of the U. States was peace—To preserve this blessing it became necessary not only to defend the rights of neutrality, but to respect the rights of the belligerents. The federal administration did not, originally, rest satisfied with appeals to the reason only of the great powers at war—but made adequate provision, and manifested a determination to maintain the rights of their country by the sword——Hence resulted a state of national glory, and of unexampled prosperity.

"It would unquestionably be the policy of a neutral nation to submit to the inconveniencies and privations necessarily incident to collisions between belligerents and neutral rights—but a neutral possessing the means of resistance, and yet acquiescing in such aggressions of the one party to the war, as would justify measures of retaliation by the other, must be considered as having abandoned or forfeited its neutral position and privileges. The people of this state will support with their accustomed energy and promptitude, the measures necessary to maintain an honest neutrality—even if they should involve a just, but necessary war—but such a war only will have their encouragement.

"While we concur with your excellency in opinion, that in the "perilous state of our foreign relations, it would be the extreme of delusion to consider war as improbable." We are obliged frankly to declare our apprehension that this war will inevitably lead to an alliance, which would be the presage of destruction; that this war is menaced against a nation, which opposes the only barrier to the necessity of an immediate conflict with the tremendous power and despotism of France; which has already overwhelmed the liberties of the old world.

"And when it shall appear that the administration of the general government pursue a policy towards the great belligerent powers, which seems to conceal and palliate the wrongs and insults of the one, and to magnify the injuries and discolor the views of the other; to submit to the cruel aggressions of the one, committed in contempt and violation both of treaty and public law, and to refuse to accept from the other party, reparation for unauthorised injury, and proffers of adjustment that might be reasonable and just, the people of this commonwealth will consider it "a duty too imperative to be neglected, to exercise all constitutional means, either to prevent impending calamities, or to prepare to meet them in a becoming manner."

Congress of the United States.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

WEDNESDAY, February 21.

[Taken for the Alexandria Gazette.]

Mr. Newton from the committee of commerce and manufactures, made two reports, one on the petition of George Armroyd and Co. of Philadelphia, the other on the petition of W. W. Weyman, of Richmond—the reports were favorable to the petitioners and were referred to a committee of the whole on Friday.

Mr. P. B. Porter presented the petition of sundry inhabitants of the county of Niagaria, in the state of New-York, praying for a new collection district. Referred to the committee of commerce and manufactures.

Sundry other private petitions and reports on petitions were presented and referred.

A note from Mr. Edward Livingston, was read by the speaker, in which Mr. L. requests a speedy decision on his title to the batture.

Mr. Bibb offered two resolutions respecting the batture. The following is the substance of the resolutions: That the interest of the United States in the batture, be ceded to the corporation of the city of N. Orleans, so far as to enable the said corporation to defend said claim against the claim of any individual or individuals; and if no claim shall be presented to effect in the term of years, then the said batture shall forever lay open as a public highway for the use of the United States, and the citizens of New Orleans. It was moved to refer the resolutions to the committee of the whole on the subject of the batture.

Mr. Gardinier was against the reference, as was Messrs Poindexter and others.

The question on the reference was taken and carried, 56 to 38.

Mr. Quincy, after some prefatory observations, in which he stated that the records of the revolution were in a confused and perishing state, offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That a committee be appointed to enquire into the state of the ancient public records and archives of the U. States, with authority to enquire whether any, and what provision ought to be made with respect to them, and that they have leave to report by bill or otherwise.

Mr. Gold, from the committee appointed to enquire into the boundaries of public lands at West Point, reported a bill authorising the appointment of commissioners to settle such boundaries with the adjoining proprietors.

The bill making appropriations for the support of government being returned from the Senate, with amendments; the said amendments were read, and referred to a committee of the whole house.

The following bills were read a third time and passed.

The bill making appropriations for the support of the navy of the U. S.

The bill making appropriations for the support of the military establishment of the United States.

The bill providing for taking the third census of the United States.

On motion of Mr. Newton the house went into committee of the whole on the bill to deprive vessels of their American character, when trading under a license from any foreign prince or sovereign. Mr. Helmes in the chair.

THE CELEBRATION,

BIRTH OF THE DAY.

[illegible] will form in Royal Street at [illegible] signal gun; the Washington [illegible] join the procession by passing in review from the right.

The south-east gallery in the church will be exclusively set apart for the military, and the music will occupy the choristers's seats in the gallery. Every exertion will be used to accommodate the audience, and it will contribute much to their accommodation to be seated during the oration, as the mode of standing on the seats very much obstructs the view and hearing.

AN ACT

To pave the foot ways of Washington and other streets.

Sec. 1. Be it enacted by the Common Council of Alexandria, That the Superintendant of Police do, as soon as the state of the weather will permit, proceed to regulate and pave six feet wide of the foot way on Washington Street between Queen and Oronoko streets, at the expence of the proprietors of the ground on each side of the said street; and to enable him to perform this duty, it is further enacted, that he proceed without delay, to ascertain the proportion each proprietor of the said ground is bound to pay, which proportion shall be the same that is directed by the present paving law for the paving of footways to be paid by the proprietors on paved streets, and that the amount thereof be put into the hands of the collector by the superintendant of police, who is hereby directed to proceed without delay to collect the same from the proprietors, and if the said proprietors shall not pay the same within two weeks from the time of the demand by the collector, it shall be the duty of the said collector to proceed to collect the same by distress and sale of the goods of such of the said proprietors as shall be in default.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That wherever two thirds of the proprietors of the ground on any square, or side of a square, on any of the unpaved streets shall apply to have the same gravelled or paved, that it shall be done at the expence of the said proprietors on said square, or side of said square, and the taxes collected as is directed by the first section of this act.

Sec. 3. Be it further enacted, That this act shall commence and be in force from and after the passing thereof.

Passed in Council, February 16, 1810.

HUGH SMITH,
President C. C.

Approved Feb. 17, 1810.

WILLIAM HERBERT,
Mayor.

Attest——ADAM LYNN, C. C.

The yeas and nays on the final passag of the above bill were as follows:

YEAS—Messrs. Preston, M'Knight Butcher, Herbert, Hewes, Lee, Newton, Dean, and Rhodes.

NAYS—Messrs. Lawrason, M'Kenzie Sutton and Anderson.

IN COMMON COUNCIL

February 10, 1810.

ORDERED, That the following persons be appointed commissioners for superintending the elections to be held in the different wards of the town, on Tuesday the 6th day of March next, for the purpose of electing members of the Common Council for the ensuing year.

Charles Slade, Richard Weightman, Samuel Harper,	for 1st Ward
William Hepburn, John Young, Dennis Ramsay,	2d do.
William S. Moore, Joseph Smith, Abraham Faw,	3d do.
James Lawrason, John Stewart, John Johnston,	4th do.

The election for the 1st Ward to be held at the house of Jeremiah Neale, Union street—For the 2d Ward at the Council Chamber—For the 3d Ward at John Hodgkin's tavern, and the 4th Ward at the house of Mr. Hutchen's, corner of Duke and St. Asaph streets.

Extract from the minutes,

ADAM LYNN, c. c.

Public Sale.

On SATURDAY next, the 24th instant, at eleven o'clock, in the morning, will be sold, at the store of the late JAMES BACON, deceased—

Valuable Property for Sale.

I will sell the PLANTATION known by the name of MOUNT ARA, lying in the state of Virginia, immediately on the post road, about 9 miles from Alexandria. This farm contains upwards of seven hundred acres, the soil is well adapted for wheat, corn or tobacco—there are on the farm two houses, one of which is a commodious dwelling with a good kitchen, and the other is a two story building 32 feet square, [illegible] and weather boarded but not finished inside, it is situated immediately on the post road and is an excellent stand for a tavern. Mr. Edgar M'Carty, of Cedar Grove, who resides near this property, will on application shew it to any person desirous of purchasing.

I will also sell that valuable property known by the name of McCarty's Island, in the Potomac river, about 20 miles above George-Town—this island contains upwards of three hundred acres, the soil is equal in quality to any land in the western country, and is surpassed by none for valuable timber for house and ship building, only about 3 acres are cleared. A further description is deemed unnecessary as it is presumed that any person wanting to purchase will view it. Mr. James Middleton, who lives near this island, will shew it on application. For the above described lands a great bargain will be sold on application to the subscriber residing in George Town.

John W. Bronaugh.

February 22. 3awsm

Public Sale.

On Friday next, the 23d inst. will be sold at the dwelling house of George M'Munn deceased on Fairfax street, all the personal estate of the said deceased, consisting of Household Furniture, Tin Ware, &c. By order of the executor.

P. G. Marsteller.

February 21.

ALL those who have old stills, copper kettles or tin ware, in the possession of the aforesaid G. M'Munn, deceased, are requested to come forward and identify the same and take them away, or they will be sold as the property of the deceased.

Twenty Dollars Reward.

WAS STOLEN from the subscriber's stable, in this town, on Sunday night last the 18th instant, a light SORREL HORSE, with a long and large blaze in his face, flaxen mane, and tail nearly of the same color, but not so white. This horse is supposed to be about 14 or 14 and half hands high, and 6 or 7 years old—he is compact, remarkable for the excellence of his gaits, carries his head rather low, and a good tail though neither nick'd nor bob'd—no artificial marks recollected—he may however be easily known by an examination of his eyes which will shew that he has been recently cut for the hook, and by a trick of starting and turning round when he meets another horse. The above reward will be given for the horse and thief, and TEN DOLLARS with all reasonable charges for the horse alone

Charles Simms.

February 21. d4t

Public Sale.

THE subscriber, by virtue of a deed of trust to him from Mr. William Hodgson, dated on the 10th day of November, in the year 1808, for the purpose of indemnifying Mr. John Hopkins—will, on FRIDAY, the 26th April next, at the hour of twelve o'clock of that day, if fair; if not, on the next fair day at the same hour, proceed to sell, at the court-house, in Alexandria, at public auction, to the highest bidder, for ready money three thousand acres of LAND, situate on the left fork of Big Sandy Creek, which land was, at the time of the grants for the same, in the county of Monongalia, in the state of Virginia.

The above tracts of land were granted by the state of Virginia, to John Allison by three several patents containing respectively one thousand acres, and bearing date on the first day of October, 1784, which land has been since duly conveyed to the said William Hodgson by deed dated 2d of August, 1790.

ORIGINAL
FAMILY MEDICINES,

Prepared by RICHARD LEE & SON,

Have been in high estimation and general use throughout the United States, for upwards of ten years. And, it is no inconsiderable evidence of their utility, that during the above period, numerous imitations of every article, the productions of ignorance and experiance, urged by envy and penury, have been intruded on the public, seen for a day, and then perished! Others now succeed them, which in like manner are fast descending to the tomb of the Capulets; while OUR remedies become more generally used, and acquire a daily accession of deserved celebrity.

Lee's Worm-destroying Lozenges.

This medicine is superior to any ver offered to the public, being innocent and mild certain and efficacious in its operations.—Should no worms exist in the body, it will without pain or griping, cleanse the stomach and bowels of whatever is foul or offensive, and thereby prevent the production of worms and many fatal disorders.

Lee's Elixer.

A certain remedy for colds, coughs, asthmas, and particularly the whooping cough, so destructive to children.

Lee's Essence of Mustard,

So well known for the cure of rheumatisms, gout, palsy, sprains, &c. &c.

Lee's Grand Restorative,

Proved by long experience to be unequalled in the cure of nervous disorders, consumptions, lowness of spirits, inward weakness, &c.

Lee's Anti-Bilious Pills,

For the prevention and cure of bilious and malignant fevers.

Lee's Sovereign Ointment for the Itch.

Which is warranted an infallible remedy at one application.

Infallible Ague & Fever Drops,

For the cure of agues, remittent, and intermittent fevers.

Lee's Genuine Persian Lotion,

Celebrated for the cure of ring worms, tetters, &c.

Lee's Genuine Eye Water.

An effectual remedy for all diseases of the eyes.

Tooth-ache Drops.

Which give immediate relief.

Lee's Damask Lip Salve.

Restorative Powder for the Teeth and Gums.

The Anodyne Elixir,

For the cure of every kind of head-ache.

The Indian Vegetable Specific,

For the cure of venereal complaints.

These medicines having come into general use, they are frequently purchased not only by Druggists, but by country store keepers to sell again; in order that the purchasers may be confident they have the original genuine medicines; wherever they purchase they have but to observe, that every article of medicine has on the outward wrapper the signature of the proprietors.

New Tooth Extractor.

THE subscriber has effected an improvement in the instrument for extracting teeth, by which that operation is rendered considerably less painful, and more safe, than by the common method, and applies in all cases.

During some months use of this instrument, (the only one except Bruff's Patent, where that will apply) the jaw has in no instance been injured, nor the gum torn (or lacerated.)

Persons who chuse it, attended at their homes as usual. Apply lower end of Prince-street to

Ch: Douglas.

Intending to apply for a patent, it cannot be seen for examination at present.

Pinkerton's Collection of Voyages and Travels,

Forming a complete History of the Origin and Progress of Discovery by Sea and Land, from the most authentic Sources.

THE first number of this valuable Work is just come to hand and is ready for inspection at the store of the subscriber, in King-street, and with Mr. Triplet, at the coffee-house.

Fully aware of the impositions that have been practised upon the public by strangers soliciting subscriptions from distant places; the Editors invite their examination of a Work perhaps the most useful, entertaining as well as extensive in its kind that has ever been undertaken in any country. And they flatter themselves that the American will by no means shrink from a comparison with the London edition, tho' offered at six dollars per Vol. less.

This number may be considered as a fair specimen of the execution of the work, and will be left a short time for examination, before the 2d number is put to press. After this the subscription will be raised to $2 25 each number; and but a few more copies printed than are sufficient to supply the subscribers, that the early patrons of this valuable Work may have a decided advantage—subsequent applications may therefore come too late.

It is also the intention of the Editor to annex to the last number a complete list of names of the subscribers as the patrons and encouragers of useful knowledge, the arts and literature of the United States.

Subscriptions are received by the suscriber.

To be Rented for a term of years

THAT valuable tract of Land, called Preston, situate on the Washington and Alexandria turnpike road, at the junction of four mile creek and Potomac river, and distant two miles from Alexandria, three from Washington and five from George Town.—There are upon the premises a two story dwelling house, containing six rooms and a passage, with a kitchen, carriage house, stables, &c. a large, handsome and highly manured garden, of at least ten acres, in a high state of cultivation, and lately laid off by an experienced gardener, an orchard containing several hundred pear, plumb, cherry and damson trees, with English walnut, quince and mulberry trees, and also upwards of six hundred apple trees, and two or three hundred peach trees, selected with care from the best nurseries, and all in full bearing. The annual average product of the apple orchard alone is estimated at 400 barrels. This tract contains about 100 acres of land, a considerable part whereof has been manured and sown with clover seed The shores afford fish and wild fowl, and one or two good fishing landings. The situation is healthy, elevated and pleasant, in full view of three towns, and is well calculated for a place of public entertainment. Immediate possession may be had and the terms will be made known upon application to
